MAYOR COPENHAVER TO PARTICIPATE IN WEB AFTERNOON

AUGUSTA, Ga., May 17, 2013– Mayor Copenhaver will join some of Augusta's brightest minds this Saturday, May 18th from 1pm to 6pm at The Imperial Theatre for Web Afternoon.

"As Augusta was recently ranked second in the nation for job growth in our technology sector, it is truly exciting to see how this essential element of our community is now coming together to showcase our city's vast technological assets," comments Mayor Copenhaver. "I'm extremely excited to have the opportunity to be a part of Web Afternoon and would like to personally thank the organizers for providing this tremendous event for our community."

Please see the press release below. The public is invited.

WEB AFTERNOON IS COMING TO AUGUSTA

A City Known for Rich History to Showcase Thriving Tech Community

AUGUSTA, GA, May 14th, 2013 - Some of the brightest minds from design, development, experience, and technology will share their thoughts on how to make the web a better place. Both speakers and attendees will be people from a variety of disciplines, but who all share a common passion.

Web Afternoon is a single track, five hour event where speakers from design, development, experience, and technology share their thoughts on process, creativity, inspiration and much, much more. Speakers will discuss tech, code, theory and ideas, as well as non-technical topics. Each talk will be 5, 10 or 20 minutes in a quick and casual atmosphere.

For the first time ever, Web Afternoon will be held in Augusta after making the rounds in Atlanta and Charlotte last year. The event kicks off this Saturday May 18, 2013 from 1pm to 6pm at Augusta's Historic Imperial Theatre located at 749 Broad Street in beautiful downtown Augusta.

If you are interested in attending Web Afternoon Augusta, tickets can be purchased at <http://webafternoon.com>. Discount tickets are available ahead of time and tickets will be sold at the door the day of the event.

Additional information regarding the speakers, venue, tickets and travel accommodations can be found at <http://webafternoon.com>.
